TO: Sam Kooiker, Councilmember, City of Rapid City FROM: Gary Drewes, Hagan Benefits, Inc. RE: SDPAA Proposal

Thank you for the opportunity to explain the proposal provided by the South Dakota Public Assurance Alliance (SDPAA) to the City of Rapid City in more detail. Over 300 South Dakota governmental entities are members of the SDPAA. These members have found the coverage provided by the SDPAA to be a sound investment to protecting the assets of their entity.

We are enclosing a comparison of the quote we provided to the City. It is our understanding that the independent agents increased the quote provided by the SDPAA prior to their comparison. We understand that a sum was added for agent's commission, loss adjustment expenses and airport errors & omissions liability. The amount that was added to the SDPAA figures for loss adjustment expenses is an estimated amount for the loss adjustment expenses as this figure is totally dependent on claims incurred by the City.

One advantage of the SDPAA is that you are an owner of the program. For several years, the SDPAA has authorized a distribution for renewing members. What could this mean for the City of Rapid City? If the City had been a member of the SDPAA in 2004, the City would have been eligible for a distribution in 2005 that would have amounted to $43,400.43 based on the quote provided by the SDPAA. This would have reduced the annual contribution to $715,282.57 for 2005.

While the SDPAA does have a clause requiring withdrawing members to take their unpaid claims with them, there is also a provision for a cumulative reserve fund for each member. A percentage of your contribution is credited toward your cumulative reserve balance over a six-year period. At the end of six years, you are fully vested in your cumulative reserve balance. If you were to leave at any renewal date, you would take your claims with you; however, you would also take your vested portion of the cumulative reserve balance to help pay for any unpaid claims you may have incurred. If everything would remain the same, we estimate that the City's cumulative reserve fund would be $828,420 at the end of six years.

We hope this answers some of the questions that have been raised. If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact our office at 1-800-456-0737. Thank you for your consideration.

Memo to:Mayor Jim Shaw & CouncilFrom:Gary Drewes, Hagan Benefits, Inc.Date:October 22, 2004Subject:Liability & Property coverage

On behalf of Hagan Benefits, Inc., and the South Dakota Public Assurance Alliance, it was certainly our pleasure to provide a quote for the City of Rapid City for liability and property. Our office was disappointed to learn that our quote was adjusted upward before it was presented to the Legal and Finance Committee.

I have enclosed a copy of the summary we provided. Although I have not seen the figure given to the Legal & Finance Committee, as you can see our quote for the coverage's requested was $759,683. I understand a commission for insurance agents in Rapid City was added to the quote and an additional amount was added for loss adjustment expense. It is difficult to understand why these adjustments were made without discussing it with us.

Presently, 323 government entities (cities, counties and other local government entities) are members of the South Dakota Public Assurance Alliance (POOL). In the nearly 18 years of existence for the POOL, the members have enjoyed broad coverages and stable rates. Today most government entities are looking at methods of making every tax dollar work to the maximum benefit of their entity. We firmly believe the POOL is serving that need to our member's satisfaction.

An issue we are hearing much about today is the concern of whether insurance brokers are being objective in providing advice to their clients. (Please see the enclosed article from the Monday, Oct. 18, 2004 USA TODAY newspaper.)

The credibility of the POOL, governed by nine local government officials from South Dakota, has been above reproach.

We would certainly appreciate the opportunity in the future to visit with the entire council about how the POOL may be of benefit and a cost saving to the City of Rapid City.

Spitzer eyes possible kickbacks to insurance brokers

Payments key as case widens

By Thor Valdmanis USA TODAY

NEW YORK -- New York Attorney General Eliot Spitzer is widening his insurance industry investigation to examine whether big insurance companies may be paying kickbacks for business from some of the nation's 300,000 independent insurance agents and brokers.

known in the industry as "contin- American International Group, to gent commissions" or "market service agreements," are at least partly rather than getting customers the

"We are looking at the big insurance companies to see if there have been payments designed to influence small independent brokers," says David Brown, chief of Spitzer's investment protection bureau. "If brokers have been less than objective in giving their advice (to individual consumers), we think that is a problem."

The payments are at the heart of a lawsuit announced Thursday by Spitzer accusing brokers such as Marsh & McLennan and Ace of tak-Spitzer suspects the payments, ing payoffs from insurers, including steer corporate clients their way, responsible for high rates of auto, best prices for corporate property

On Friday, Marsh & McLennan said its risk and insurance services subsidiary would stop taking incentive fees and that its top management is being reshuffled. AIG also announced it was considering ending the arrangements. Meanwhile, MetLife disclosed that it had received three new subpoenas in connection with the investigation.
