The Subrecipient agrees to comply with all Federal regulations issued pursuant to compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794), which prohibits discrimination against the individuals with disabilities or handicaps in any Federally assisted program. The City shall provide the Subrecipient with any guidelines necessary for compliance with that portion of the regulations in force during the term of this Agreement.

B. Affirmative Action

1. Approved Plan

The Subrecipient hereby agrees that it shall be committed to carry out pursuant to the Grantees specifications an Affirmative Action Program in keeping with the principles as provided in President's Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1966. The City shall provide Affirmative Action guidelines to the Subrecipient to assist in the formulation of such program. The Subrecipient shall submit a plan for an Affirmative Action Program for approval prior to the award of funds.

2. Women-and Minority-Owners Businesses (W/MBE)

The Subrecipient will use its best efforts to afford small businesses, minority business enterprises, and women's business enterprises the maximum practicable opportunity to participate in the performance of this Agreement. As used in this Agreement, the terms, "small business" means a business that meets the criteria set forth in section 3(a) of the Small Business Act, as amended (15 U.S.C. 632), and "minority and women's business enterprise" means a business at least fifty-one (51%) percent owned and controlled by minority group members or women. For the purpose of this definition, "minority group members" are Afro-Americans, Spanish-speaking, Spanish surnamed or Spanish-heritage Americans, Asian-Americans, and American Indians. The Subrecipient may rely on written representations by businesses regarding their status as minority and female business enterprises in lieu of an independent investigation.

3. Access to Records

The Subrecipient shall furnish and cause each of its own subrecipients or subcontractors to furnish all information and reports required hereunder and will permit access to its books, records and accounts by the City, HUD or its agent, or other authorized Federal officials for purposes of investigation to ascertain compliance with the rules, regulations and provisions stated herein.

4. Notifications

The Subrecipient shall send to each labor union or representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining agreement or other contract or understanding, a notice, to be provided by the agency contracting officer, advising the labor union or worker's representative of the Subrecipient's commitments hereunder, and shall post copies of the notice in conspicuous places available to employees and applicants for employment.

5. Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action (EEO/AA) Statement

The Subrecipient will, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees placed by or on behalf of the Subrecipient, state that it is an Equal Opportunity or Affirmative Action employer.

6. Subcontract Provisions

The Subrecipient will include the provisions of Paragraphs, Z.A., Civil Rights, and B, Affirmative Action in every subcontract or purchase order, specifically or by reference, so that such provisions will be binding upon each of its own subrecipients or subcontractors.

C. Employment Restrictions

1. Prohibited Activity

The Subrecipient is prohibited from using funds provided herein or personnel employed in the administration of the program for: political activities, inherently religious activities, lobbying, political patronage, and nepotism activities.

2. Labor Standards

The Subrecipient hereby agrees to comply with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act as amended, the provisions of Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 327 et seq.) and all other applicable Federal, state and local laws and regulations pertaining to labor standards insofar as those acts apply to the performance of this Agreement. The Subrecipient agrees to comply with the Copeland Anti-Kick Back Act (18 U.S.C. 874 et seq.) and its implementing regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor at 29 CFR Part 5. The Subrecipient shall maintain documentation that demonstrates compliance with hour and wage requirements of this part. Such documentation shall be made available to the City for review upon request.

The Subrecipient agrees that, except with respect to the rehabilitation or construction of residential property containing less than eight (8) units, all contractors engaged under contracts in excess of $2,000,000 for construction, renovation or repair work financed in whole or in part with assistance provided under this Agreement, shall comply with Federal requirements adopted by the City pertaining to such contracts and with the applicable requirements of the regulations of the Department of Labor, under 29CFR Parts 1,3,5 and 7 governing the payment of wages and ratio of apprentices and trainees to journey workers; provided that, if wage rates higher than those required under the regulations are imposed by state or local law, nothing hereunder is intended to relieve the Subrecipient of its obligation, if any, to require payment of the higher wage. The Subrecipient shall cause or require to be inserted in full, in all such contracts subject to such regulations, provisions meeting the requirements of this paragraph.

3. "Section 3" Clause

a) Compliance

Compliance with the provisions of Section 3 of the HUD Act of 1968, as amended, and as implemented by the regulations set forth in 24 CFR 135, and all applicable rules and orders issued hereunder prior to the execution of this Agreement, shall be a condition of the Federal financial assistance provided under this Agreement and binding upon the City, the Subrecipient and any of the Subrecipient's subrecipients and subcontractors, their successors and assigns, to those sanctions specified by the Agreement through which Federal assistance is provided. The Subrecipient certifies and hereby agrees that no contractual or other disability exists that would prevent compliance with these requirements.

The Subrecipient further agrees to comply with these "Section 3" requirements and to include the following language in all subcontracts executed under this Agreement:

"The work to be performed under this Agreement is a project assisted under a program providing direct Federal financial assistance from HUD and is subject to the requirements of Section 3 of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, as amended (12 U.S.C. 1701). Section 3 requires that to the greatest extent feasible opportunities for training and employment be given to low and very low-income residents of the project area, and that contracts for work in connection with the project be awarded to business concerns that provide economic opportunities for low- and very low-income persons residing in the metropolitan area in which the project is located."

The Subrecipient further agrees to ensure that opportunities for training and employment arising in connection with a housing rehabilitation (including reduction and abatement of lead-based paint hazards), housing construction, or other public construction project are given to low- and very low-income persons residing within the metropolitan area in which the CDBG funded project is located; where feasible, priority should be given to low-and very low-income persons within the service area of the project or the neighborhood in which the project is located, and to low- and very low-income participants in other HUD programs; and award contracts for work undertaken in connection with a housing rehabilitation (including reduction and abatement of lead-based paint hazards), housing construction, or other public construction project to business concerns that provide economic opportunities for low-and very low-income persons residing within the metropolitan area in which the CDBG funded project is located; where feasible, priority should be given to business concerns that provide economic opportunities to low- and very low-income residents within the service area or the neighborhood in which the project is located and to low-and very low-income participants in other HUD programs. The Subrecipient certifies and agrees that no contractual or other legal incapacity exists that would prevent compliance with these requirements.

b) Notifications

The Subrecipient will send to each labor union or representative of workers with which it has a collective bargaining agreement or other contract or understanding, if any, a notice advising said labor organization or worker's representative of its commitments under this Section 3 clause, and shall post copies of the notice in conspicuous places available to employees and applicants for employment or training.

c) Subcontracts

The Subrecipient will include this Section 3 clause in every subcontract and will take appropriate action pursuant to the subcontract upon a finding that the subcontractor is in violation of regulations issued by the grantor agency. The Subrecipient will not subcontract with any entity where it has notice or knowledge that the latter has been found in violation of regulations under 24 CFR Part 135 and will not let any subcontract unless the entity has first provided it with a preliminary statement of ability to comply with the requirements of these regulations.

 - d) The Subrecipient covenants that neither it nor any member of its Board of Directors, officers, or employees presently have any interest in any project to be financed under the Scope of Service, and shall not acquire any interest therein which would conflict with the performance of the Scope of Service required under this Agreement or applicable statute, rule or regulation. Such a conflict would arise when: the employee, officer or agent; any member of their immediate family; their partner; or an organization which employs, or is about to employ, any of the above, has a financial or other interest in the firm/household selected for award. The Sub-grantee's officers, employees or agents will neither solicit nor accept gratuities, favors or anything of monetary value from contractors, potential contractors, or parties to sub-agreements during office tenure or for one year after the closeout of the grant. This stipulation must be included in all other contracts and subcontracts to this grant.

The Subrecipient certifies, to the best of its knowledge and belief, that:

- a) No Federal appropriated funds have been paid or will be paid, by or on behalf of the Subrecipient, to any person for influencing or attempting to influence an officer or employee of any agency, a Member of Congress, an officer or employee of Congress, or an employee of a Member of Congress in connection with the awarding of any Federal contract, the making of any Federal grant, the making of any Federal loan, the entering into of any cooperative agreement, and the extension, continuation, renewal, amendment, or modification of any Federal contract, grant, loan or cooperative agreement.
- b) If any funds other than Federal appropriated funds have been paid or will be paid to any person for influencing or attempting to influence an officer or employee of any agency, a Member of Congress, an officer or employee of Congress, or an employee of a Member of Congress in connection with this Federal contract, grant, loan, or cooperative agreement, the undersigned shall complete and submit standard Form-LLL, "Disclosure Form to Report Lobbying," in accordance with its instructions.

Any person who fails to file the required certification shall be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $10,000 and not more than $100,000 for each such failure.

RELIGIOUS RESTRICTIONS IN GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

The Salvation Army USA central territory fulfills its historic mission by meeting human needs and caring for hurting individuals and families as an expression of the gospel of Jesus Christ. To that end it engages in partnerships with government and other funders. It holds that such service, shaped by a Christian perspective, is of great value and is a spiritual ministry in its own right. The opportunity for comprehensive ministry, however, may be different in government funded programs than in non-government funded programs.

When The Salvation Army receives funds through government contracts which are designated for specialized and clearly proscribed social services, it voluntarily accepts some government mandated restrictions for those programs. These restrictions may include constraints on the types of spiritual ministries that are possible. Acceptance of these funds carries with it a promise to the community that a specific service will be provided according to professional standards, and that specific limitations will be honored. It is further understood that the benefits of these programs will not be made contingent upon an individual's participation in religious or denominational activities.

When The Salvation Army central territory accepts contractual constraints on its religious or denominational ministry, it will still attempt to meet the total needs of those served by its government funded programs. The army's holistic ministry is made available to all, even when the primary service is not rendered in a corps building or under corps direction. In contracting with government funders the army still contends that religious activity such as the provision of spiritual guidance, counseling and chapel activities are important components of service. When supported by other resources, religious activity should be permitted as long as those served are given a free choice to either opt out of participation in these religious activities or to select an alternative provider. When there are restrictions within a contract, The Salvation Army will use those contract funds exclusively to provide the specific "non religious" services stipulated. Contractual relationships with government, however, must never infringe upon the army's right to exercise freedom of religion and speech. All corps ministries are, of course, available to anyone, including those served by the funded programs.

The following three sections of this statement set forth the policy of The Salvation Army in the USA central territory related to religious restrictions in government contracts. (All new or substantially modified contracts must be reviewed and approved by the territorial finance council.)

I. Government Funding with Limited Religious Restrictions - Operating or Capital Funds

In 1996 as part of federal welfare reform, the charitable choice provisions (section 104 of the personal responsibility and work opportunity reconciliation act of 1996) established new rules for collaboration between government and religious organizations in which government cannot discriminate against faith-based providers. Currently, charitable choice guidelines regulate just four streams of federal funding: temporary assistance to needy families; drug treatment funded by the substance abuse and ~~mental~~ mental health services administration; the department of labor's "welfare-to-work" program; and community services block grant funding for community action agencies. Under charitable choice, religious organizations contracting with government:

- A. Retain authority over their mission, governing board, etc.;
- B. Have the right to maintain a religious atmosphere in their facilities;
- C. Retain the right to use religious criteria in employment decisions;
- D. Must offer services to all eligible participants regardless of religious affiliation or lack thereof;
- E. Must, when requested, make referral to an alternative provider for those who object to service from a faith based provider;
- F. Must not use government funds for purposes of sectarian worship, instruction or proselytization; and
- G. Must not require service recipients to participate in inherently religious activities, although these activities can be offered by the organization.

It is the policy of The Salvation Army central territory to accept funding and approve government contracts with these limited religious restrictions.

II. Government Funding with More Extensive Religious Restrictions - Operating Funds

Certain government contracts contain more extensive restrictions for operating funds. For example, the U.S. housing and urban development department (HUD) funding regulations (24 CFR) applicable to a variety of programs (e.g., emergency shelter grants, supportive housing, community development block grants), contain more extensive restrictions on religious activity. Although the language may vary somewhat, the most typical verbiage in connection with essential services and operating costs reads:

- A. It will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of religion and will not limit employment or give preference in employment to persons on the basis of religion;
- B. It will not discriminate against any persons seeking emergency shelter and related services on the basis of religion and will not limit such services or give preference to persons on the basis of religion;
- C. It will provide no religious instruction or counseling, conduct no religious worship or services, engage in no religious proselytizing, and exert no other religious influence in the provision of services or the use of facilities or furnishings assisted in any way under this agreement.

It is the policy of The Salvation Army central territory to approve government contracts for essential services and operating costs containing such extensive religious restrictions with the clear understanding that the provision of spiritual guidance, counseling and chapel activities are important components of service and will be provided, when supported by other resources, as long as individuals served are given a free choice to either opt out of participation in these religious activities or to select an alternative provider.

III. Government Funding with More Extensive Religious Restrictions - Capital Funds

Certain government contracts contain more extensive restrictions for capital funds. For example, the U.S. housing and urban development department (HUD) contractual provisions generally deny funding for the construction, rehabilitation, or restoration of a facility owned by a religious organization except:

- A. For minor repairs (usually under $25,000) directly related to public services in a structure used exclusively for non-religious purposes; or
- B. In larger capital projects for acquisition or rehabilitation of a structure owned by a primarily religious organization such as The Salvation Army, if the religious organization agrees to comply with the provisions cited in Section II above; and
 - 1. The structure that is to be renovated, rehabilitated or converted has been leased to an existing or newly established wholly secular organization;
 - 2. The assistance is provided to the secular organization, and not the religious organization, to make the improvements;
 - 3. The leased structure will be used exclusively for secular purposes available to all persons regardless of religion;
 - 4. The lease payments paid to the primarily religious organization do not exceed the fair market rent for the structure before the renovation, rehabilitation or conversion was done;
 - 5. The portion of the cost of any improvements that benefit any unleased portion of the structure will be allocated to, and paid for by, the religious organization;
 - 6. The primarily religious organization agrees that if the recipient does not retain the use of the leased premises for wholly secular purposes for the useful life of the improvements, the primarily religious organization will pay an amount equal to the residual value of the improvements to the original grantee from which the amounts used to renovate, rehabilitate or convert the building were derived.

While the requirement to utilize a secular entity in a lease agreement has been used in the central territory for certain capital funding of free-standing social service facilities (i.e., The Salvation Army Services, Inc.), this is problematic in a corps setting. The Salvation Army has difficulty dedicating any portion of a corps building for wholly secular purposes, and therefore has chosen not to pursue this funding for corps settings. Additionally, the army has concern with repayment provisions which accompany certain government capital dollars. The regulations provide no guidance as to the calculation of residual value, and useful life is not well defined. Where capital projects are substantial, the residual value could be significant.

It is the policy of The Salvation Army central territory to approve government contracts for capital funding containing such extensive religious restrictions only with the clear understanding that the provision of spiritual guidance, counseling and chapel activities are important components of service and will be provided, when conducted at a site which is supported by other resources, as long as individuals served are give a free choice regarding participation. Because the army cannot be sure of or agree to the obligations that it will assume by accepting certain government capital funds, and because of its concern about dedicating any portion of a corps building for wholly secular purposes, it is the policy of The Salvation Army central territory to approve such funding only for free-standing social service facilities. However, all such projects will also have facilities for the provision of spiritual guidance, counseling and chapel activities supported by The Salvation Army. These facilities, preferably at an adjacent corps community center, should include a community room or multipurpose room to house an expanded program of chaplaincy and pastoral care offered to social service participants.
