FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

U.S. COMMUNITIES

U.S. Communities is a nonprofit government purchasing cooperative that helps public agencies reduce the cost of purchased goods by combining the purchasing power of public agencies nationwide. This objective is accomplished by competitively soliciting quality products by a single lead public agency and making the resulting contract available to other public agencies nationwide. U.S. Communities' founding co-sponsors include the Association of School Business Officials, the National Association of Counties, the National Institute of Governmental Purchasing, the National League of Cities and the United States Conference of Mayors. These founding co-sponsors also serve on the Governing Board.

HOW TO USE

Public agencies and nonprofits register to participate at www.uscommunities.org. The registration includes consent to a master intergovernmental cooperative purchasing agreement with the various lead public agencies and is intended to meet the legal formalities of participation in the program. A single registration allows participation in all lead agency contracts. There are no restrictions on the amount or size of a public agency order.

AUTHORITY TO USE

Generally, a public body may participate in, sponsor, conduct or administer a cooperative procurement agreement with one or more other public bodies, or agencies of the United States, for the purpose of combining requirements to increase efficiency or reduce administrative expenses. In a few states, this power is not passed on to localities. Each state's authorizing statute is shown on the "Legal Authority" tab at www.uscommunities.org.

All U.S. Communities contracts have been competitively solicited by a lead public agency in accordance with their public purchasing rules and regulations. Each solicitation contains language that advises all suppliers of the subsequent contract that may be used by other government agencies throughout the United States. This language is based on the lead jurisdiction "Joint Powers Authority" or "Cooperative Procurement" program. Although each government may have different purchasing procedures to follow, applying these competitive principles satisfies the competitive bid requirements for most state and local government agencies.

State statutes and, if applicable, local ordinances generally allow one government agency to purchase from contracts competitively solicited by another government agency ("Lead Public Agency"). This, of course, would require the consent of all parties including the supplier, the Lead Public Agency and government agency purchasing from the Lead Public Agency contract. U.S. Communities contracts are established to meet both the competitive solicitation and consent requirements. Public agencies accessing U.S. Communities consent to a Master Intergovernmental Cooperative Purchasing Agreement (MICPA) with the various lead public agencies that have competitively solicited and awarded available contracts.

COSTS TO USE

Public agencies pay no costs and are charged no fees to participate. The suppliers, who pay a minimum 1% administrative fee to participate, fund U.S. Communities. This pays for operating expenses and offsets costs incurred by national and state sponsors.

BEST GOVERNMENT PRICING

U.S. Communities does not have a most favored customer requirement. Suppliers are required to match pricing lower than U.S. Communities only for agencies that would otherwise be eligible for lower pricing through another contract vehicle. This requirement ensures that agencies are offered the best government pricing through U.S. Communities. Contracts are non-exclusive and discretionary, so an agency can choose to use any contract that, in their sole discretion, is in their best interest.
