Re: Transit Shelters Installation Project TS09-1835 11-6-19 SDCL Review

Utility Conflicts:

The transit shelters do not conflict with any above-ground utility structures. Any underground utilities determined to be in conflict during construction of the transit shelter foundations will be required to be relocated by the owner of the utility.

Right-of-Way Determination:

The majority of the shelters will reside in the public rights-of-way. The shelter on E. St. Joseph Street and E. St. Charles Street is located in an existing easement. The shelters at Waterloo Street and Apolda Street are located partially or entirely on City of Rapid City property, and no easements will be required.

The rights-of-way limits were determined by reviewing City maps, plats, construction plans and in-field measurements.

Sight Triangles:

Attached are aerial photos with sight triangle lines and shelter locations which were drawn in AutoCad to the City's Sight Triangle Requirements.

Site Photos:

Attached are photos of the shelter sites. Marc Paulson is standing in the shelter location in each picture.

W. Main & 11th Shelter:

Attached is a revised location for this shelter. The shelter was moved out of the sight triangle.
