Dear Brad,

Following are comments I wish to submit after our meeting on the proposed mobile home park ordinances. Please forward these to the Legal and Finance Committee for consideration of the proposed ordinance on August 11.

Re. 17.50.110, A.2

Proposed ordinance calls for height restriction of one story or 15 feet. I believe it would be more fair and consistent if the height restrictions were consistent with MDR zoning in the city. Manufactured housing is improving in construction and design and size. It is easy to envision mobile homes taller than this in the near future. It would also be difficult to conform to this restriction with maintenance, storage and other support structures in a mobile home park.

Re. 17.50.110, A.4

Proposed ordinance calls for one guest parking space for every four homes. Previous ordinance allowed for guest parking to be provided on the street as long as it met a width minimum. Once again, this change would be more fair and consistent with MDR zoning. Certainly, most residential neighborhood zoning allows visitors to park on the street.

Re. 15.48.080 Clearances

As presently written and enforced, any mobile home presently in place and not meeting the minimum clearances is grandfathered, and allowed to remain in place and occupied. The problem is that mobile homes are, well, mobile, and not designed to last as long as stick built homes. The day will come when that home should be removed and replaced.

However, the mobile home cannot be replaced with another home until the minimum clearances are achieved. Usually the only way to achieve this is to combine that lot with the adjacent lot, eliminating a very expensive mobile home lot and source of revenue from the park owner. In practice what happens is that the home likely never leaves the lot, preventing the upgrading in appearance and safety of the park. The park is condemned to be populated with ever older homes on these lots.

I understand the safety concern regarding minimum clearances between mobile homes and other structures. But given the current restrictions, neither the city nor the park owners nor the tenants win. Aging mobile homes occupied beyond their expected life cycle are in no one's best interest.

A potential solution would be to allow replacement of the home with one of equal or smaller size, perhaps with the requirement that fire resistant materials be used in its construction.

Regards,

Ted Pettyjohn

The Mobile Home Park Ordinance Comment Form was submitted from the City of Rapid City website. Here are the responses given.

Comments: Jeff Seidel at Countryside Property magmt: It is our concern that the setback rule change will greatly affect our ability to update homes that we have. Our request is to allow existing parks to continue as they are setup and as they were planned at time of conception. Understand that we are working with the growth management team and the fire department to improve conditions however enforcing these setbacks on the parks is a primary reconsideration.

Subject: Question on mobile home parks

Marcia,

I am a bit confused about our discussion last night about guest parking. Right now we are grandfathered as far as the existing park. What happens if we apply for an expansion for more sites? Are we obligated to provide the guest parking just for the expanded area or do we have to provide more parking within the existing park? It seems to me that when we added 22 lots about six year ago that we only had to provide guest parking for the additional lots.

With regard to the fee structure, I don't know what is fair to both the City and the owners, but we sure don't want our fee to triple. We are in favor of the proposal to charge fees to individual parks that don't comply with inspection requirements and perhaps a small adjustment to the existing fee structure (perhaps $2.00 per lot instead of $1.50).

Thanks.

 All the fee's will be a burden to us. We are paying high taxes already, and utilities, we have older and limited income tenants who complain that they can't afford substantial rate increases. We would have to take a loss on our income that would make it unprofitable to operate and create a lot of hassle for us as an elderly couple. We have tried to keep our mobile home park presentable and free of debris, but below us on the south there is a major mess which belongs to a dirt contractor that also uses it as a junk yard. Why do we have to comply to all these regulations when they are allowed to have a dump next to us? I feel these regulations are excessive and the City provides no amenities that we don't have to pay for.

the small mobile home courts operate under different circumstances in many ways than larger ones and take in less revenue therefore it is inequitable to charge the same amounts for a license and other fee's.

15.48.20 License

Fee increase, since fees have not been adjusted in years, it is expected. However, a less drastic increase over a period of time should be considered.

Last sentence of code: "consideration will be given to existing compliance issues". We can find numerous issues that have accumulated over 50 years of operation.

15.48.80 Clearances

New codes not apply to aged existing parks

New clearances for new parks with new and better standards

All clearances existing and from old be allowed, however in any given case it is our best interest to correct issues on a one on one basis. I.e. If a home is 2 foot too close to a neighbor's lot line, we would adjust a new home in to correct. At the same time if we are at a property lines edge to public street right of way and are suppose to have a 5 foot set back. To reduce the footage of a home that much, would make that lot an unsellable product.

- Also note our new homes will be equipped with a fire suppression system. This in itself would transform setback issues.

15.48.170 Drainage

Some of these old parks were designed quite poorly and it is in our plans to address drainage issues. Our present concern is that the entrance to Countryside Estates on St. Patrick Street was built with a improper curb and gutter system and the street empties into the park.

15.48.230 Legal non conforming

When a old home is removed, what we are looking at is where does the front of the house rest, our setbacks on sides are minimum 15' and the rear is 10' minimum.

In 17.38.040 point E it states "That the lot shall abut on a public street for a distance of not less than 25 foot". Most of our homes are set at the lot line +/- . This is why setbacks are such a driving force as to the direction being taken.

* Please take this into consideration as decisions and the process is moved forward.

Sorry for sending this to you. My main concern for this and I'm not speaking for the Akers however it is of there concern that these codes are dealt with properly and fairly. As has been stated new codes for new developments is easily digestible since everything can be developed to fit the codes. Adopting codes to try and fit an existing facility park into modern ideals is less palatable. As any existing park owner will express, it's not a matter of not wanting to be cooperative or even try and fit into the new model, it's what can be feasibly done without losing income.

To alter the footprint of parks at this time to decrease any lot size would ultimately cost a loss of 20% or greater to each park that is owned by the Akers. However as we have shown the different ideas to which we can adjust home sizes and shapes to try and fit The new ideas is really the only alternative besides maintaining the 50 year old homes that are there presently. As the 5 year plan demonstrates, that the city had completed, the life expectancy of a mobile home is 40 years and most of what we have, has exceeded that by numerous years. By repairing these homes, does not change the fact that the issues equated with old homes will still exist. The only way to move forward is to simply move forward without trying to jeopardize parks at present.

Leave existing parks as is as long as they are safe, making due changes in order to be safe. To me this is not a complicated issue and should not be addressed as one, it seems that as this has gone on the waters are getting increasingly muddied up. Lets keep this simple and look at each individual park and address gross safety hazards or pending ones, and work out the solution. Thus allowing updates, modernization, improvements to standard of living, however you want to put it, the city, tenant and owner will all be satisfied.

Sincerely
Jeff Seidel
