The following text is added as the “second paragraph” to the “Cost of COBRA Coverage” section found in the “Continuation of Coverage Under Federal Law – COBRA” section in the Summary Plan Description.

Temporary Premium Reduction

The federal stimulus package, which was enacted as the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) temporarily reduces the premium for COBRA coverage for eligible individuals. COBRA (the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985) allows certain people to extend employer-provided group health coverage, if they would otherwise lose the coverage due to certain qualifying events.

Individuals who are eligible for COBRA coverage because of their own or a family member's involuntary termination from employment that occurred from September 1, 2008 through December 31, 2009 and who elect COBRA, may be eligible to pay a reduced premium. Eligible individuals pay only 35 percent of the full COBRA premiums under their plans for up to nine months. This premium reduction is generally available for continuation coverage under the Federal COBRA provisions, as well as for group health insurance coverage under state continuation coverage laws.

Special rules apply for HIPAA's pre-existing condition rules during this extended election period. The period beginning on the date of the qualifying event and ending on the beginning of the period of coverage is disregarded for purposes of the 63-day break in creditable coverage rules of HIPAA.

If an individual was offered Federal COBRA continuation coverage as a result of an involuntary termination of employment that occurred at any time from September 1, 2008 through February 16, 2009, and he or she declined COBRA coverage at that time or elected COBRA and later discontinued it, he or she may have another opportunity to elect COBRA coverage and pay a reduced premium.

For questions regarding the participants rights and obligations under this Plan, contact the Plan Administrator.
